DEDUCTIONS WERE FALSE PROMISES

Says Dreyfus of Bertillon Testimony.

CAPTAIN VALERIC SUPPORTS HIS CHIEF'S STORY.

Accused Says That While the Witness' Demonstrations Were Clever, They Were Absolutely Worthless, Also That the Handwriting in the Bordereau Was So Unlike His, That He Relied on the Document Itself to Prove His Innocence.

Rennes, Aug. 26—[Special]—Bertillon, the handwriting expert who began yesterday to demonstrate mathematically that Dreyfus wrote the bordereau, continued his testimony this morning. In summing up the witness affirmed that he had proved that Dreyfus wrote the bordereau with a disguised handwriting.

Demange hereupon asked: "Did you compare Esterhazy's handwriting to the bordereau and submit it to the same test?" Bertillon: "Yes, but very irregularly."

Dreyfus here interrupted saying that the handwriting in the bordereau was so unlike his that he relied on the document itself to prove his innocence.

Captain Valeric, Bertillon's assistant, supported his chief's testimony.

When Bertillon had concluded, Dreyfus again spoke, saying that while the witness' demonstrations were clever, they were absolutely valueless, because the deductions were altogether false promises.

Capt. Freystaetter, a member of the first courtmartial, was the next witness. Freystaetter testified that the conviction of Dreyfus was based on certain secret documents which he handed to the judges exclusively. Those were: A biographical note on Dreyfus, charging him with treasonable conduct throughout his career; a document containing the phrase, "this animal of a D——"; a letter establishing authenticity of the second document; a version of the Panizzardi telegram containing the words: "our emissary warned. Dreyfus arrested."

Col. Maurel, president of the first courtmartial, testified that on Thursday, only one secret document was submitted to the court.

Freystaetter's statement created a great sensation, especially when he spoke of the last document, which General Mercier said was not submitted in '94 and which M. Paleologue said was a forgery.

Maurel and Mercier immediately confronted Freystaetter. The former made a tame apology for the testimony of Thursday, saying that he meant something else. Mercier branded Freystaetter's statement as a lie.

This statement was greeted with cries of "shame," and hisses.

Another handwriting expert took the stand and testified in opposition to Bertillion's peculiar theories. The court then adjourned.

May Ask the Kaisers's Aid.

Rennes, Aug. 26.—The Echo de Paris announced that the counsel of Dreyfus had obtained possession of certain documents mentioned in the bordereau, in Esterhazy's writing, which they would produce in court next week as a coup de theatre. Inquiry at the Dreyfusard quarters brought the assurance that the statement was erroneous, but that the defense intended, in the event of Capt. Dreyfus being recondemned, to ask the German government to communicate these documents proving his innocence, and that they had reason to believe such a request would be granted.

Diplomatic Notes Broken Open.

London, Aug. 26.—The Rome correspondent of the Daily Mail says: "Italy and Germany have obtained proofs that diplomatic correspondence passing between Paris and other places is systematically opened. This has been the case particularly since the campaign against Dreyfus began, the French war office having sought proofs to strengthen the accusation against him."

Socialists Threaten Revolution.

Rennes, Aug. 26.—There are many sinister rumors in the air as to the action which will be taken by the advanced partisans of both sides in case Dreyfus should be condemned or acquitted. In case of condemnation, it is asserted by high authority that a revolution in Paris is certain to be started by socialists.

Marine Disaster List Grows.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 26.—The story of maritime disaster from the late hurricane grows daily. Many sloops, barges, lighters and small schooners are still missing in the region of the Albemarle and Chesapeake canal.

THEY DISLIKE CAMP LIFE

The Beloit Daily News says:

"Ten men employed by the Wisconsin Telephone company on their lines in this city, organized to strike, yesterday, but when it came to a crisis only four of them struck. The company decided recently to put its gang here in camp instead of letting them stop at hotels, not only to reduce the cost, but because they are soon to go to work on the toll lines. The men did not like this, however, and they all agreed to strike. The manager refused to grant their demand, however, and, when the walkout came, only four of the ten men kept their agreement. These were Matt. Blair, Al. Cushman, Charles Lakotan and Mr. Morteson. These men are much disgusted at their fellow workmen for their failure to stand by the agreement, and they speak in strong terms of their conduct."

MILITIA IS AT DARIEN

More Troops Ordered to the Scene of The Race Conflict—Troops May Charge.

Savannah, Ga., Aug. 26—[Special]—At one o'clock this morning a detachment of the First Georgia Infantry and one of the McIntosh light dragoon cavalry arrived at Savannah with twenty-five negroes from Darien, the scene of the race conflict.

The Savannah militia is still guarding Darien and more troops have been ordered to the scene.

The negroes have gradually retreated until they are now huddled together in one place.

If the troops charge the slaughter will be terrific.

Work of Fire Chiefs.

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 26.—At the convention of fire chiefs Friday morning several constitutional amendments were considered. It was decided, beginning with next year, to elect a president and two vice presidents, irrespective of the vice presidents from the different states, by a majority vote of delegates. The salary of the secretary is made $600 instead of $300 per year. A resolution was adopted restraining the directors from changing the place of meeting of the association. Charleston was chosen as the place of meeting of the next convention. Chief J. P. Quigley of Syracuse was chosen president of the association; Secretary Hills and Treasurer Larkin being re-elected.

Quiet Rules in Samoa.

Apia, Samoa, Aug. 11, via San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 28.—The new provisional government is being carried on without any hitch so far by the three consuls. Luther Osborn, the American consul-general, is chairman.

Mataafa, who has been seriously ill, is now better.

Compensation claims of Britishers will amount to about $80,000. It is claimed here that the three powers are bound to pay for losses during the late disturbances to the foreign residents. Who pays that compensation is quite beside the question and must be agreed upon by the powers.

Admiral Watson Ill.

Washington, Aug. 26.—The Army and Navy Register says: "Recent letters from Manila mention the illness of Admiral Watson as the source of great anxiety to his officers. The illness is the effect of an accident which occurred to his launch while he was on board on the 11th of July. No one but his physician is allowed access to him, and all business of the fleet is forbidden. It is hoped, however, that the enforced quiet may restore him to his previous health."

Will Not Risk the Relic.

Washington, Aug. 26.—The navy department does not look with favor on the proposition to have the historic warship Constitution take part in the Dewey demonstration at New York. It is stated that the venerable craft is not in a condition to undergo such service, and that she is far too valuable as a relic to subject her to the risks of a trip from Boston.

Regular Army Enlistments 90,671.

BLACK FLAG NAILED ON GUERIN'S HOUSE

ANTI-SEMETIC LEADER SAID IT WOULD SIGNIFY DEATH.

Rumored in Paris That the Party Besieged in the House in Rue Chabrot Have Committed Suicide — May Have a Still Greater Significance.

Paris, Aug. 26—[Special]—It is rumored that Guerin, the anti-Semite leader, and the party besieged in the house in Rue Chabrot, have committed suicide.

At daylight today a black flag was found nailed on one of the front windows of Guerin's house.

It is believed that the flag signified that one of the party had died, as Guerin said this would announce death.

The flag, however, may have a still greater significance, as none of the besieged are visible since it was hung out.

JOINS THE GREAT MAJORITY.

John Kelly.

John Kelly, who was in Janesville from Chicago, visiting, died suddenly last night of heart disease, while fishing from the upper dam.

Mr. Kelly and Charles Guttenburg were sitting on the apron of the chute at the west end of the dam, and Kelly had given no warning whatever of approaching illness.

"About 9:30 o'clock," said Mr. Guttenburg, "Kelly threw up his arms and fell backward with a groan."

When Guttenburg ran to him and asked him what was the matter, Kelly did not reply. Guttenburg then dashed water in his face but this did not seem to make any impression on the prostrate man. His companion then rushed to the Ford flour mill and informed one of the millers, who ran as fast as he could to the west side engine house and told one of the firemen that a man was dying on the west end of the dam and that a doctor and the ambulance should be sent at once.

Dr. Joe Whiting was at the engine house at the time and went at once to the scene, but found Kelly beyond medical assistance. Dr. Whiting attributed the death to heart disease.

The ambulance took the body to the home of Mrs. Mary Kelly, 102 Caroline street, who is the mother of the deceased.

Mr. Kelly was forty-three years old and was a steam fitter by trade. He has lived in Chicago for the past twenty years. Previous to this he lived in Janesville. He was a steam fitter for G. A. Libbey for a number of years. For several weeks he has been visiting his mother in this city, to whom his sudden death is a severe shock.

Mrs. Margaret Commons.

Funeral services over the remains of the late Mrs. Margaret Commons were held this morning at 9 o'clock from the home in the town of Harmony, and from St. Mary's church at 10 o'clock. Rev. Father Rivers officiated and the interment was in Mount Olivet cemetery. The ball bearers were: W. H. Morrissy, Patrick Connors, Michael Joyce, Charles Hallet, Charles Collins and Michael Connors.

OUR POLICY IN PHILIPPINES.

President McKinley Outlines the Position of the Administration.

Long Branch, N. J., Aug. 26.—President McKinley publicly declared the policy of the national administration in the Philippines during a brief speech at Ocean Grove Friday. In addressing 20,000 persons at the Ocean Grove summer school of theology he said, in slow, measured tones:

"I believe that there is more love for our country and that more people love the flag than ever before. Wherever that flag is raised it stands not for despotism and oppression, but for liberty, opportunity and humanity; and what that flag has done for us we want it to do for all people and all lands which by the fortunes of war have come within its jurisdiction.

"That flag does not mean one thing in the United States and another in Porto Rico and the Philippines. There has been some doubt in some quarters respecting the policy of the government in the Philippines. I see no harm in stating it in this presence.

"Peace first; then, with charity for all, establish a government of law and order, protecting life and property and occupation for the well being of the people who will participate in it under the stars and stripes."

Chinese Tea Transported Through Russia

The Siberian News, of Tomsk, is one of the few newspapers published in Siberia, and gives some interesting particulars in regard to the transportation of Chinese tea through Russia. The Tomsk newspaper says proudly that in the first twenty days of last January no less than 19,000 sleighs loaded with tea passed through the Siberian city. Every sleigh carries usually five bales of tea, packed in ox skin, each weighing from 100 to 160 pounds. The men sleep on the sleighs during the trip across Siberia, which lasts nearly one year. It would be shorter to send the Chinese tea by sea; but in this case the custom house duties are high, while they are comparatively small on tea imported by the land route. Russian merchants, who have long had most of the European tea business in their hands, are greatly disturbed over the great growth in public favor of the Ceylon teas which are distributed from London.

A TRANSVAAL RAID MAY BE NEXT MOVE

General Belief at Lorenzo, Marquez.

PORTUGUESE TROOPS BEING KEPT IN READINESS.

Several Persons Suspected of Being Emisaries of the South African Republic Have Been Arrested—In Official Circles at Pretoria It Is Still Hoped That a Peaceful Settlement May Be Reached.

Lorenzo, Marquez, Delagoa Bay, Aug 26—[Special]—There is a belief that a Transvaal raid is contemplated, and great excitement prevails here.

The Portuguese troops are kept in readiness for an emergency.

Several persons suspected of being emissaries of the Transvaal government, have been arrested here.

Pretoria, South Africa, Aug. 26.—The Transvaal situation is unchanged. It is felt in Pretoria that the present state of affairs is likely to lead to the very gravest consequences, and yet it is not believed that the chance of a peaceable settlement has by any means disappeared.

In official circles hope is expressed that the latest compromise proposals submitted to Great Britain may form a basis for reopening friendly negotiations.

Wild rumors and exaggerated stories in any quantity are circulated in the Transvaal, but the fact is that the Boers are simply waiting quietly for the issue of negotiations. There is no truth whatever in the story that the burghers are intending to invade the adjoining colonies of Great Britain unless their last proposal is accepted. There seems no reason for doubting the sincerity or the authority with which Gen. Joubert spoke when he said that the first blow would be struck, if trouble came, by Great Britain.

Joubert Urges Moderation.

Pretoria, South African Republic, Aug. 26.—Commandant-General P. J. Joubert issued a circular to all field cornets cautioning them against any act tending to bring on a conflict with another power. He declares that not a single stranger who does not volunteer is to be coerced into bearing arms.

Commandant Viljoen has given notice in the volksraad that he will ask the government if, in case of war, it is prepared to confiscate the property of inhabitants who take up arms against the government. In the course of an interview after the session Commandant Viljoen said that if war broke out military government would be established at Johannesburg and all British subjects would be compelled to leave.

Blue Book on the Transvaal.

London, Aug. 26.—A new blue book on the Transvaal was issued last night, but the Boer reply to Mr. Chamberlain's proposal has not yet been divulged. A summary of the contents of the blue book reveals the fact that the Transvaal proposed arbitration on all differences under the conventions of 1881 and 1884. Sir Alfred Milner opposes arbitration, firstly because the uitlander grievances are still unredressed and secondly because the scheme is impracticable.

Must Strike Hard and Fast.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Brig.-Gen. Thomas M. Anderson, commanding the department of the lakes, was at the war department Friday. Gen. Anderson commanded the first body of troops sent to the Philippines and spent considerable time in the islands, returning to the United States in the spring of the present year. His opinion is that the present rebellion will be brought to a close by the end of the next dry season. This can be accomplished, he believes, by a sharp and decisive campaign and by taking prompt advantage of every forward step gained by the American forces.

England Takes Precautions.

TALKED EXPANSION AT BELOIT REUNION

SUBJECT OF SPEECHES AT LINE CITY WEDNESDAY.

Appeal of Senator J. M. Whitehead of This City—Discourses on Our Responsibilities to the Philippines—A Plea to Americans Not to Shrink Their Duty.

At the fifth annual reunion of the Rock County Soldiers' and Sailors' association, held at Beloit, Wednesday, Senator J. M. Whitehead of this city, delivered the address of the day. His remarks were devoted mainly to the discussion of the Philippine question. It was an eloquent plea to Americans not to shirk their responsibility.

After a few introductory remarks relative to the reunion, Senator Whitehead launched into a discussion of the national expansion question. He said in part:

"Dare we say now that we wish a different result had befallen our fleet on that May morning? We are not drunk with the spoils of victory neither are we appalled at the measure of our responsibility. We have encountered difficulties. Yes, we have brought them upon ourselves. But it is not the part of a brave people to shun responsibility, to dread difficulties, any more than it is a part of a good citizen, or a brave man, to avoid the difficult and dangerous things of life. We have taken into account that all human progress has been made in the face of enormous opposition and at a tremendous cost.

Cannot Avoid the Responsibility

"We are responsible today for millions of people for whom we had no care nor thought before the war with Spain. We cannot shake off that responsibility, if we would. The American people must be patient; they are neither to be swept on by an ambition to extend trade, acquire wealth and accumulate territory, nor yet to be deterred by the thought that it will cost us treasure and blood to maintain the position we have taken. Our national life will flow on as before, only the channels will be wider and deeper and the influence will be more outspread than before.

"It would be small justification for us to maintain an army in the Philippines out of considerations of commerce and trade merely. Before the people of the Philippines are to be found of much assistance to the American people commercially they must have their schools and hospitals and know the necessities of civilization. The standard of life must rise among them until the product of our own capital shall be such as the demands of their new life require. The flag will continue to wave over those great islands. It will symbolize first that which is best and noblest in the American life and character. In due time the rewards of commerce will come, and the wealth of both the people of the United States and the people whom they have served will be greatly increased.

Have Great Capabilities.

"It will take generations of people, it will take pertinacity of purpose to assist these people who have come under our care to advance to that stage of civilization and self control which will make them first to be recognized in the citizenship of the world. They have capabilities such as other members of the human family have. They are capable of being actuated by the greatest purposes that have ever actuated human hearts. Let the flag float for them, the symbol of human right and human progress. Facing, as citizens, problems of citizenship new to us and difficult of solution, let us not flinch from whatever difficulty or responsibility we are involved in."

A SUCCESSFUL INSTITUTE

Examinations Held Yesterday and Today --Pleased With Work

The teachers' institute, which has been in session at the High school building for the past two weeks, has closed. The examinations were held yesterday and today.

The work has been under the supervision of Supt. David Throne of Afton, Supt. Wm. Ross of this city, Prof. Hollis of Madison, Prof. Shutts of Whitewater, Miss La Trace of Green Bay, and Miss Mary Holt of this city.

Supt. Throne told a Gazette representative this morning that he and everyone concerned had been greatly pleased with the work accomplished at the institute. About 160 attended and this is the largest teachers' institute that has ever been held in Rock county, and one of the largest ever held in the state. Supt. Throne says that he has been especially pleased with the work done by Miss Mary Holt.

At the close of the institue the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, The board of education has opened, free of charge, its commodious High school building, together with all its school apparatus for the teachers' institute held jointly by the first and second superintendent districts, commencing August 7th and continuing three weeks; therefore be it

Resolved, That we, the superintendents and teachers of the First and Second superintendent districts express our hearty appreciation of the favors shown us in this regard.

Resolved further, That a copy of these resolutions be submitted to each of the Janesville daily papers for publication and also to the board of education.

NO GOOD ROADS CONVENTION

A Lack of Interest on the Part of Janesville Business Men

Because Janesville business men could not be interested and induced to subscribe sufficiently for the good roads convention, that project has been abandoned.

The point was so decided last night upon the report of the committee appointed by Mayor Richardson last Thursday to canvass the city for subscriptions.

The committee seemed confident that five hundred dollars could not be raised among Janesville's business men. They drew this conclusion from the result of their efforts yesterday, which were anything but encouraging. Many of the business men could not be persuaded to subscribe at all, and the majority of those who did, gave a very small amount and gave it reluctantly.

So it was decided that Janesville would not hold the good roads convention.

Held for Husband's Death.

Peru, Ind., Aug. 26.—Mrs. Edith Quick and Henry Quick, arrested on the charge of murdering William Quick, husband of the former, by arsenical poisoning, had a preliminary hearing Friday and were bound over without bail. The woman protests her innocence. The evidence was damaging against both defendants.

Kaiser's Plan of Conciliation.

Berlin, Aug. 26.—It now appears that the emperor's policy relative to the rejected canal bill is likely to be one of conciliation. It is not now expected that any attempt will be made to discipline conservative deputies who hold office under the government for voting against the canal measure, since this would only arouse antagonism.

SCOTT'S MINSTRELS PLEASED AUDIENCE

LAST NIGHT'S PERFORMANCE REFINED AND BRIGHT.

Deserving of a Much Larger Audience Than That Which Greeted Them—Settings and Costumes Were Pretty and Artistic—Good Attraction Tonight—Monte Cristo Tuesday.

Oliver Scott's colored minstrels were deserving of a much larger audience than that which greeted them at the Myers Grand last night. The prices could not have kept the people away as they had been placed within the reach of all, and should have insured the display of the "S. R. O." sign. At Madison, Thursday night the prices ranged from twenty-five cents to one dollar and the house was filled at that.

The performance last night was refined and bright, and nearly every performer was a star. The orchestra and band are deserving of special mention as they rendered an excellent quality of music both in the parade yesterday noon and at the house last night.

The settings for the first part were one of the prettiest and most artistic ever seen here, and, combined with the fresh satin costumes of the performers, made a most pleasing effect.

The vocal numbers of this part were all well chosen and sung in such a manner as to elicit applause from the audience. The songs of Richard Lewis, Clarence Powell and Henry Henderson were especially fine and the rendition of "Mammy's Little Pumpkin Colored Coon" by Harry Waters, in which he imitated a crying baby was great. The dancing of James White was very good also.

The specialty turns were well done too, and it would be hard to say which was the best.

The trick bicycle riding of Arthur Maxwell was the best ever seen on the local stage, and the clever artist received continuous applause.

Harry Craton, the slack wire artist and juggler, was also good, and Clarence Powell in his monologue act kept his hearers in continual laughter. His make-up, with a seven-by-nine mouth, was good.

The musical team of Ves Valin and Godman are the premiers of their profession, and this act pleased everybody.

Kitchie, the hand balancer and equilibrist, is a wonder.

The performance ended with a laughable act by the entire company, and the finish was a warm one. Take it altogether, the show was a worthy one, and should have been better patronized.

The theater going public of Janesville should wake up to the fact that Manager Myers is bringing to his house the best attractions on the road, and he should be encouraged in "keeping the quality up," by the patronage that his efforts deserve.

Good Attraction This Evening

If you want to be amused and delighted, see "Mr. Plaster of Paris" at the Myers Grand tonight. If you don't want to laugh, the theatre will be no place for you. "Mr. Plaster of Paris" is the funniest of the stage creations. He is exhuberantly mirthful and he makes every one who sees him likewise. The play is translated from the French and suited to the American stage.

The advance sale for the production opened up well and a good house is assured.

Alexander Dumas' Monte Cristo

Five special sets of gorgeous scenery and three tons of electrical and mechanical effects, together with a company of intelligent actors and actresses, presenting Monte Cristo, one of the best romantic dramas ever written by Alexander Dumas, will be presented at the Myers Grand on Tuesday evening, Aug. 29th.

The charming Mercedes is portrayed by that captivating artist Marie La Brahy, while Edmond Dantes of Mr. Chas. Farnham, a handsome young actor who has been very successful in eastern cities.

It is said the settings for this production are even more elaborate than those used when the drama was in its prime. The beautiful bay of Naples, the storm at sea, the prison of the Chateau D'if, are said to be very picturesque and vastly entertaining to the eye. The production should be greeted by a full house.

EMBARRASSED BY OTIS' ACT

Order Excluding Chinese May Lead to Important Complications.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Gen. Otis' order excluding Chinese from the Philippines is very embarrassing to the administration, which is placed between two fires—the Chinese government on the one hand and the British and German governments on the other. The only information in official circles concerning Gen. Otis' action comes through the protest of the Chinese minister. It is stated at the war department that Gen. Otis has sent no notice of his order, although the Chinese government has had time to instruct its representative here to exert his influence to have the obnoxious decision of the general countermanded.

The British and German residents in the Philippines are reported to have called upon their home governments to intervene on the grounds that the order prevents them from bringing into the islands Chinese laborers, cooks, etc., and interferes with the development of their property. The most important phase of Gen. Otis' action is the complications which it may cause in our friendly relations with China.

The administration can take no action until Gen. Otis is heard from, and surprise is expressed that he has not more promptly reported an order which involves our relations with a friendly government.

Games Played Yesterday in the Two Leading Leagues.

St. Louis is looming again, its recent victories over Chicago and the Quakers giving it considerable of a boost. Yesterday it took a double header from Philadelphia, and so it required no effort at all on the part of Baltimore to slip ahead of the Quakers. Heavy Trade with Germany.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Trade relations between the United States and Germany, which are just now the subject of considerable discussion, do not appear to have been seriously affected up to the present time, if judged by the latest figures of the treasury bureau of statistics. These show that in both imports and exports the commerce between the United States and Germany in the fiscal year 1899 was greater than in 1898, and that the grand total of the commerce between the two countries in 1899 was larger than in any preceding year.

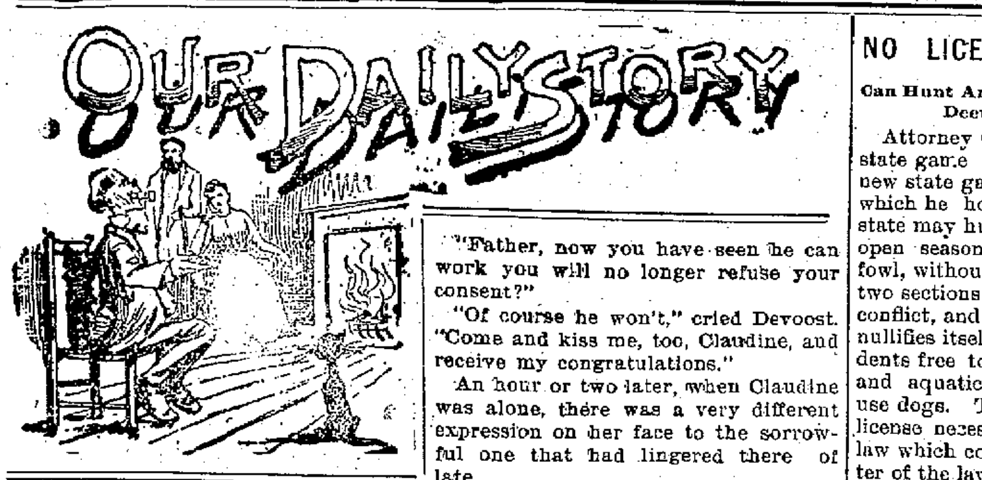
W. J. CANNON,
15 W. Milwaukee street.



M. Bertel, who was a retired lawyer, and very well off, objected to a young man called Louis Gavron, to whom Claudine had given her heart, simply because he had artistic proclivities.

Snow had fallen all over Belgium, but in Brussels for two days the air had been clear and frosty; the snow in the park having become quite hard, a snow fete for the poor had been organized—a night fete, too, and in the open air.

"Claudine, I am glad we came," he cried. "Yes, children, of course you can go on the ice; no fear of falling in. Ha! he. Only leave us in peace to look at the groups. Ah, you are looking at the cave with the fortune teller, Claudine, and the young beauty coming to learn her fate. Excellent, most excellent! I declare it is the best of all."

"The sculptor who is responsible for that cave has received the gold medal," announced a voice just behind them.

M. Bertel looked around and saw one of his most intimate friends.

"Well, he deserves it. Who is he? I should like to make his acquaintance," he said.

"Louis Gavron," replied the other, briefly.

"Impossible! That young fool who—no, I cannot believe it. And the medal, too? No, no; you are playing a practical joke on me, Devoost."

"Not I. Young Gavron has an immense amount of talent, if you would only believe it."

"Louis Gavron—the gold medal!" repeated M. Bertel. It was the gold medal that overcame him. He turned to see what Claudine thought of the matter, but Claudine had disappeared.

"She is talking to my wife—at least she was a second or two ago," said Devoost.

And then he inveigled M. Bertel into an animated discussion on the politics of the country.

Louis Gavron was his cousin, and Mme. Devoost's companion when she met Claudine was Louis Gavron himself. He had stood carefully in shadow so as not to be recognized by M. Bertel. Meantime, not a word of the old man's eulogies on his work had escaped him. Dearly as Louis Gavron prized the gold medal, he prized those words of praise from Claudine's father ten times more.

"Ma cherie, my beautiful one," he murmured; "did you hear what your father said about my work?"

"I am so glad you have that gold medal, Louis. Father will think so much of it. It will almost make him—well, I dare scarcely hope, and yet I do. Oh, blessed Salon Blanc, not only will it benefit the poor, but the poor in heart, like ourselves, will be rejoiced."

"THIS IS THE WAY YOU BEHAVE WHEN I AM ABSENT."

"Dearest!"

They walked along for a few seconds. Then Louis Gavron whispered: "My cousin Devoost has promised to put in a good word for me with your father."

At this moment they came upon the family party. M. Bertel's brow contracted when he saw by whom his daughter was accompanied, but he said, a little stiffly:

"I must congratulate you, M. Gavron, on your success. The medal you have gained is, I hope, only the first of a long series of art triumphs."

Louis Gavron bowed and thanked him, and then the Bertels went home, never a word more being said about Louis Gavron or their meeting with him.

About 10 o'clock the next day Devoost arrived.

"Hurrah for the Salon Blanc!" he shouted. "May they have one every winter if it brings about such good results."

"Why, Devoost, what has happened?" asked M. Bertel. "Have the poor got a bigger sum than you expected?"

"Confound the poor—no. I didn't mean that; but Louis Gavron's fortune is made. Two orders, mon cher, and big ones, too, all owing to the fortune teller's cave. Look here, Bertel, don't you be the only blind-folded individual in Belgium."

"Father, now you have seen he can work you will no longer refuse your consent?"

"Of course he won't," cried Devoost. "Come and kiss me, too, Claudine, and receive my congratulations."

An hour or two later, when Claudine was alone, there was a very different expression on her face to the sorrowful one that had lingered there of late.

Even while she was thinking of this there was a light footfall on the stair. "Louis! You here? How did you know that you might come?"

He laughed.

"Good news flies swiftly, you see. M. Devoost said that you had something to tell me."

"M. Devoost is a dear. If it had not been for M. Devoost I doubt if even the fortune teller's cave would have done any good.

"He is a true friend as well as a relative," said Louis. "Is is t' ugh his influence that I have got two important orders, and he told me only this morning that as he has no children of his own, he looks on me as his son and will meet M. Bertel's views in the matter of an allowance."

"Oh, Louis!"

And so overcome by emotion was happy Claudine that she looked as if she were going to faint. This, of course, necessitated that Louis should take her in his arms, and there she was when the door unexpectedly opened and her father came into the room.

"So, so. This is the way you behave when I am absent. 'When the cat's away,' etc."

But though he tried to speak sternly there was a break in his voice. He, too, had seen Devoost that morning, and they had come to terms on the subject of ways and means. It amused him, then, rather than angered him, to see the frightened, shy manner in which the lovers rushed away from each other, looking imploringly at him the while, as though to beg for forgiveness.

The ordeal did not last long, for Claudine noticed a glimmering twinkle in his eye and instantly took advantage of it to kiss him and tell him that he had promised her to accept Louis for his son-in-law.

And so, even the contretemps of daring to make love before M. Bertel's formal consent had been given was at last overcome, and among all the people who visited the Salon Blanc on that crisp January night there was not a happier couple than brown-eyed Claudine and Louis.—Lloyd's Weekly.

Barbarous Proceedings in Hungary.

An extraordinary story is reported from Komorn, in Hungary. The officials of the municipality of Mocsa, in the Komorn Comitat, are accused of having applied torture to persons imprisoned on suspicion of theft. It seems that some time ago the safe of the municipality was robbed of nearly 3,000 florins. Numerous arrests were made, but the thieves were not discovered. It was then that torture was applied to six of the prisoners, among whom are three women. The mayor and councillors were present. The prisoners were thrashed with red-hot iron rods, burning spirit lamps were placed under their bare feet, and the blades of pen knives inserted under their finger nails. These barbarous proceedings did not lead to the desired result, and finally the thief, who was not among the six, confessed his guilt. Strange to say neither the mayor nor the worthy members of the council have yet been suspended.

Wisconsin's Cheese Production.

Wisconsin produces annually an average of 10,000,000 pounds of cheese, nearly all of it made by Swiss methods and Swiss people, who imitate the home product fairly well. Most of it is shipped to the Pacific coast, and finds its market in the South American countries. The work is done between April and the late autumn months and many of the "cheesers," as they are called, young Swiss who have learned the trade at home, go back each year to spend the winter, reappearing regularly with the opening of the working season. The industry is an increasing one, and the quality of the product is well guarded.

NO LICENSE IS NECESSARY

Can Hunt Anything in Open Season But Deer and Aquatic Fowl.

Attorney General Hicks has given the state game warden an opinion on the new state game hunting license law, in which he holds that residents of the state may hunt any kind of game in the open season, except deer and aquatic fowl, without a license. It appears that two sections of the statute in question conflict, and the result is that the law nullifies itself in part and leaves all residents free to hunt anything, save deer and aquatic fowl, provided they do not use dogs. The use of dogs makes a license necessary. The sections of the law which conflict are section 13, chapter of the laws of 1899, and section 14 of the same act. Section 13 provides as follows:

Every person who has resided in this state for one year previous to applying for a license to hunt game and who desires to hunt the same, must first obtain a license from the county clerk of the county in which he resides.

shall be unlawful, and is hereby prohibited, for any resident of this state to hunt for, pursue, take, catch or kill any of the acquatic fowls or deer protected by the laws of this state or to pursue, take, catch, or kill any of the other fowls or birds protected by the laws of the state with dog or dogs, without having in his possession at the time of such pursuing, taking, catching or killing, a license therefor duly issued to him under the provisions of this act.

As a result of this partial contradiction in relation to dogs, Asst. Atty. Gen. Buell, who wrote the opinion, holds that the latter section of the statute controls the former section, and makes it possible for farmers and other residents of the states to hunt without dogs. The deer and aquatic fowl hunters are regulated by another statute, and are not affected by the opinion.

Stranger— But look at all the drug stores. Why, there's one of them on every corner. The people must have to take a great deal of medicine, or those stores couldn't exist.

Native—Oh, the drug stores are what made you think this is an unhealthy town, eh? Well, that just shows how a person may be mistaken. This is a local-option district. — Chicago Daily News.

Weary Willie—I'm gittin' a little nervous about dese flying machines!

Plodding Peters—Why nervous?

Weary Willie—Well, as soon as dey gits flying machines dey'll be gittin' aerial freight trains, and it won't be no cinch gittin' chucked off an aerial freight train, lemme tell yer!

Schoolboys' Own Dogs.

What piping times the modern schoolboy has! At Clayesmore, Enfield, England, for instance, he is actually encouraged to keep dogs, for the masters believe that the "possession of a dog is an open sesame to many chambers in the great temple of natural history. Dog-keeping is the surest antidote to homesickness and effectually dispels that chill and formal atmosphere that may pervade a school to the exclusion of all warm and natural affections." At most public schools the privilege is not granted, but the boys keep dogs all the same, with the disastrous result that they do so "on the sly" at some outside livery stable or among the small cottagers. At the Britannia training ship a good pack of beagles is maintained, but this is altogether different from the individual ownership at Enfield.

The Kennel Club at Clayesmore, which stands at the end of an undulating old English archery lawn, is a model ancient Greek temple, with four Corinthian pillars with Dorian capitals. The club is managed by a committee of the boys, with one of the masters as president. English or Irish terriers are found to be the best breeds—bigger dogs being inconvenient, for many reasons. Such matters as regular exercise, cleaning, cooking, feeding, washing and other duties are arranged by the committee and carried out by members without the aid of servants. These duties can be discharged without interference with cricket or football, in odd leisure time, when boys might otherwise be engaged in the occupation of walking about aimlessly. A well-thumbed reference book on natural history in the club kennel room bears evidence of the impetus which such a pastime exercises in stimulating curiosity in that direction.

The experiment was begun three years ago, and recently a new kennel was opened by Lady Warwick. The kennel is built of wood and corrugated iron over a cement foundation and surrounded by light railings, with a bevy of fine old English oaks and elms interspersed with towering firs and flanked by giant rhododendra. Lady Warwick opened the door of the Kennel clubhouse and declared the new buildings open amid the cheers of the boys, the captain of whom then presented her ladyship with a magnificent bouquet.

A Wedding Gift.

One of the presents showered upon a rural bride came from an old lady with whom both bride and bridegroom were prime favorites. Some years ago she had accumulated a supply of cardboard mottoes, which she worked and framed as occasion arose. In cheerful reds and blues, suspended by a cord of the same colors, over the table on which the other presents were grouped hung the motto—"Fight on; fight ever."

"Just see, father, how this stocking is ruined, and I've only worn it once. I thought it was because Jane had rubbed it too hard, but mother says it's all the fault of the soap that Jane used. And she wants you to be sure and order a box of Ivory Soap to-day."

A WORD OF WARNING.—There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

TOMATO JELLY.—Peel and cut up firm, ripe tomatoes, and to each pound add the grated peel of a lemon and a few drops of essence of bitter almonds. Boil together until the tomatoes are soft, then mash well and strain through a cloth. To each pint of juice add the juice of a lemon and a pound of heated loaf sugar. Let the sugar melt, then put it where it will boil gently until it jellies when dropped on a plate. Seal like any other jelly and eat with meat or fowl.

PERSONALS.

For seventy years Roswell Beardsley has been postmaster at North Lansing, N. Y.

Mrs. Li Hung Chang has a more extensive wardrobe than any other woman. Her dresses number 3,000.

Sir Edwin Arnold says that he can do his best work when there is plenty of noise in the room where he is writing.

When Dr. S. Weir Mitchell began to write poems his friends said it would injure his reputation as a physician.

Mrs. George Gould's children have a head nurse, two assistants, two governesses, two grooms, and two footboys to minister to their wants.

Lord Curzon and the ameer of Afghanistan are intimate friends and have been exchanging letters for ten years past. The ameer once told Lord Curzon he found it necessary to execute 1,000 persons a year to suppress treason.

When Sir John Tenniel drew for Punch the historical cartoon, "Dropping the Pilot," symbolical of the dismissal of Bismarck by Emperor William, Lord Rosebery secured the original and sent it to Bismarck, who welcomed the present cordially.

Carolus Duran says that his most severe critic was a dog whose portrait he once painted. The mistress turned up her nose at the result, "and," says the artist, "the dog looked once and then bit me in the leg. Yet, it wasn't a bad picture, either."

WITH THE HUMORIST:

"It's not so easy to get a wife," he said, dejectedly.

"Oh, you're entirely wrong," replied the man from New York. "It's no trouble at all to get one, but it's not so easy to keep her."

Thus it became evident that he belonged to Gotham's "four hundred."—Chicago Post.

She sighed, as girls will sometimes, and then said:

"There are moments when I feel as if I would hesitate even if the best man in the world asked me to marry him."

"Olivia," he cried, "you must be a mind-reader. I was just thinking of asking you to be mine."

Four seconds later she reluctantly promised that she would name an early day.—Chicago Daily News.

"Music undermines the intellect."

"How do you know?"

"Men who play the piano never seem to know when their hair needs cutting."—Chicago Record.

He Was Not Observing.

"It seems almost incredable," said the railroad man, "but I saw a man the other day that couldn't give an intelligent description of his wife. He came in the office to get transportation for her, to which he was entitled, and under the present rules we must have a description of the person that is going to use the transportation. On the margin of the ticket are places where the agent can punch out a very good description of the person that is entitled to use the ticket in their possession.

"I asked this man first how old his wife was. He could not tell within five years.

"Next, I asked him how tall she was. The best I could ascertain was that she was not very tall, neither was she very short. I punched out the word 'medium' and let it go at that.

"Next I asked the man what the color of his wife's eyes are. He studied for a full half minute and said he be darned if he was sure whether they were light blue or light gray.

"When it came to the color of the woman's hair he was again in a quandary. He was not dead sure whether it was dark brown or black.

"The only thing this husband was sure of was that his wife was a slim woman."

Telepathy Among the Egyptians?

Ian Maclaren's idea that it is possible for people hundreds of miles apart to signal to one another without wires is interesting, but it is far from being original. In fact, it is positively ancient. The native Egyptians are said to have long since understood it, and the fact is vouched for by British military authorities that on the day England lost General Gordon at Khartum people in the streets and bazaars of Cairo knew of his death. The distance in a direct line from Khartum to Cairo cannot be less than 1,000 miles, and there is no railway or telegraph system between the two cities. How did the Egyptians acquire this information, if not by having mastered the mystic art of telepathy?

Presidential Signatures.

President McKinley's signature is, next to that of John Adams and Tyler, the plainest of any of our chief executives. Van Buren's was the hardest to decipher, though Jefferson, Taylor, Hayes, Benjamin Harrison, and Garfield never lifted their pen in signing their names. J. Q. Adams' is small, cramped, and the only "back hand" in the lot. Polk's is the most ornate; Jackson's the longest, four inches, and Pierce's the largest.

"Old Secession."

An interesting relic at a Confederate reunion was the iron six-pound cannon, "Old Secession," which was in use in announcing the opening of the secession convention in that city, and was again fired when the ordinance of secession was passed. It was also used to announce the secession of each state as the news was received in Charleston, and whenever its roar was heard, many persons rushed to see what state had joined South Carolina. The cannon has been removed at night to various places and buried since the evacuation of Charleston, in 1864. It was recently dug up in Savannah and returned to Charleston, where it has been suitably mounted and labled with silver plates, and will be kept as a relic.

HIGH LIGHTS.

When we say that silence is golden, we mean other people's silence.

More men would marry if they knew that lots of pretty girls' hats cost only 65 cents.

There is too much patient waiting done in this world. Walk up and take what you want.

This is no world for woman; in town she's afraid of mice and in the country she's afraid of snakes.

Wise mothers keep their children obedient by never asking them to do anything they don't want to do.

When a woman loves a man she puts him in a shrine which is so much too big for him that he tumbles out.

By putting off till tomorrow what we don't want to do today we get a chance to put it off until the next day, too.

It is easy to enjoy hot weather, if you only remember that every scorching day brings you nearer to the blizzards of next winter.—Chicago Record.

MENU FOR SUNDAY.

The sea, all water, yet receives rain still,
And the abundance addeth to his store;
So thou, being rich in will, add to thy will
One will of mine to make thy large will more.

ORANGE OR LEMON CAKE.—Make a layer cake, using any good recipe or the following: Cream one cup of butter with two cups of sugar and add to this two-thirds of a cup of milk and the yolks of three eggs. Sift one heaping teaspoon of baking powder in three cups of flour and beat in with other ingredients, keeping the dough as soft as you can; add the beaten whites last. This will make four layers. For the filling beat the yolks of two eggs, gradually adding one cup of sugar. Grate the rind of one lemon or orange, and add it and the juice, one teaspoon of boiling water and one teaspoon of corn starch or flour and last the beaten whites. Put on an inner boiler and keep on the stove until sufficiently thick. Add more lemon or orange juice if needed, beat a moment and let cool before spreading between the layers.

To Clean a Painting.

No one who does not understand all about colors should attempt to clean an oil painting, for it is easy to remove with it part of the painting itself. The inexperienced person can, however, clean an oil painting safely in the following manner. Remove the picture from its frame, lay it flat, and cover it with a cloth moistened with rain water. Repeat until the dirt on the picture has been removed by the cloth, or until it is so softened by the moisture that it may be wiped off easily with a soft sponge. Then let the picture dry, when it should be gone over carefully with a piece of cotton wool saturated with pure linseed oil. The paint will then look fresh and new. On no account must soap be used, and an oil painting should never be touched with anything harder than a piece of lint or cotton wool. For dusting there is nothing better than an old silk handkerchief.

Attar of Roses.

In no country in the universe has the rose been brought so nearly to perfection as in China. Extremely magnificent are the rose gardens of the emperor, and the revenue yearly obtained from the sale of oil of roses and rose water forms a very large addition to the imperial coffers. Only members of the imperial family, nobility, military dignitaries and a few other notables, are allowed to have attar of roses in their dwellings, and very severe punishments are meted out to ordinary citizens in whose possession even one drop of the precious essence is found. Originally only two kinds of roses were known in the flowery land—the white and the red moss roses—and the smaller they were the more highly were they valued. The leaves are greatly prized as amulets.

Sparrows as Messenger Birds.

A man in Georgia some time ago caught some sparrows and trained them so that he can open their cage and they will fly back again without any other inducement than the love of their home. This trainer watched the birds carefully and made up his mind that sparrows could be trained to do the work of carrier pigeons, and that as they were smaller they would be more valuable in case of war. He gave one of his sparrows to a friend, who was going to a distance of 150 miles, and told him to free the bird when he had reached the end of his journey, and at the same time to telegraph him when he did so. The bird reached home and went directly to its cage, making the journey in a little over an hour and ahalf.

Give to Baby's Hair a Natural Curl.

Young mothers may be glad to know that a baby's hair may often be encouraged to curl naturally if it is brushed upward and twisted round the finger while it is wet. Brushing downward rather encourages a child's hair to grow straight.

OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN METROPOLIS OF FRANCE

AN INTERESTING LETTER FROM W. W. WATT.

THROUGH THE KINDNESS OF THE U. S. CONSUL, HE GAINS ADMITTANCE TO THE EXPOSITION GROUNDS

Paris, France, Aug. 12—Through the kindness of the United States consul here, I secured a ticket admitting me to all parts of the fair grounds, where the great Paris Exposition of 1900 is to be held. This great fair will undoubtedly be the finest the world has ever seen. Although much smaller than the Chicago exhibition, it will possess other attractions which will be readily appreciated. The exhibition is to be located in the very heart of the business section, and, in consequence is rather restricted for space. Nevertheless, there will be concentrated on these grounds such a display as the world has never seen. The system of selection as to the exhibits is the main idea of the organizers of this great show. The total cost has been placed by the French government at 100,0000,000 francs. Of this amount 65,000,000 has been raised by means of lottery bonds, with an entrance ticket attached. The total area of the grounds will be 268 acres, as compared with 238 of the 1889 exhibition. I will mention three special attractions. The luminous palace will probably be the greatest piece of glass and stained glass work in the world. It is to measure 110 feet high and 175 feet in circumference. The palace is being constructed close to the Eiffel tower and will be rendered attractive by day as well as by night. At night it will be the most curious combination of electric light combined with fairy-like arrangements of stained glass and crystal ever witnessed.

"The moon at a distance of one metre" is another attraction promised. The marvelous telescope which is to accomplish this, is to measure 185 feet in length and each of its two lenses will be nearly four feet in diameter. The total cost is estimated at $300,000 and by its magnifying power the moon will be visible as if it were at a distance of forty miles.

A Panorama of Delusion.

The "Myriorama" is another attraction promised. This is a building which will be something in the form of a panorama. Visitors will imagine themselves on board an ocean steamer, and will see pass before their eyes the many strange sights to be seen on a sea trip around the world. So well is the deception carried out, that one will actually experience the same sensation as if he really were at sea. The work of painting the panorama has been entrusted to one of the first scenic artists in France.

Numerous other attractions are promised. A high board fence surrounds the grounds, and every few yards you will meet guards on duty.

Not a building on the entire grounds is yet completed, and many have not even been started. From all portions of the city one can see the skeleton iron work of the buildings, and above them all soars the great Eiffel tower which will be one of the features at the coming exhibition. Just a word about the American section. Thanks to the work of the United States commission, the total amount of space allotted to the United States is 210,000 square feet. The original amount of space placed at the disposal of the Americans by the French officials was 147,000 square feet. The sum of $1,080,000 has been voted by the American government for the expense of the section. Across the river Seine is now being constructed a mammoth iron bridge that leads into the fair grounds. This bridge is known as the Pont Alexandre III and is a piece of engineering that has by no means been easy to accomplish. It has one main arch, and the whole construction rests on a very solid foundation. To secure strength as well as durability has been the aim of the builders and even an untutored eye can see that they have succeeded. At prominent places on the bridge will be placed several decorative figures. The United States national or main building is to cost $104,000. Among other buildings to be erected by the American government will be one to contain an agricultural exhibit which will cost $28,000. Other buildings will be devoted to printing, with a department for the entertainment of the American press, to the marine trade, to forestry, to the liberal arts, to the weather bureau, and still another to the life saving service. The French authorities would not consent to any of these buildings being constructed over two stories high.

Prices Sure to Be High.

Prices are sure to be high during the exposition and my opinion is by the time the steamship companies and hotel landlords get through with a person, they will wish they never entertained the idea of going to Paris in 1900. Even now it is nothing less than a robbery from one end of the city to the other and it does seem as though the French were trying to fleece the Americans seven days in the week. At the hotel where I have been stopping, they make it a special point to charge up all the writing paper you use as well as the linen that is on your dining room table. If you ring for ice water they charge you with a pound of ice.

In a friendly conversation with the landlord he was kind enough to inform me that he thought he would retire at the end of 1900 and spend the balance of his life in luxury and he is a man of but thirty-five years. To cap the climax five porters and the chambermaid lined up to my carriage as I was about to drive to the depot to take the train for Brussels, each expecting a tip. On the way to the depot the horse accidentally fell and broke a portion of the harness and to make matters worse the cab driver made a bold attempt to make me settle for the damage. I had the satisfaction of seeing two New York young men wrangle with one of the depot porters, who insisted on charging them one dollar for carrying their grips into the waiting room. What will it be next year?

Latin Quarter in Paris

To leave Paris without visiting her Latin quarter would be to miss one of the grandest sights in this city of art and fashion. Several thousand students from all portions of the world pursue their studies in this quarter of the city the same as Wisconsin students do at the state university. Once a week they give a ball and it is an event that one should attend. It is held on Thursday evenings in a hall about ten times the size of the armory. A beer and wine garden covering an acre of ground adjoins the hall and an orchestra of fifty skilled musicians furnish the dance music. It is not the size of the hall, the grand two-step or waltz music that impresses one half as much as the dancers. Fully a thousand students attended the ball last Thursday evening and embraced nearly every nationality of the world. The women who attend these balls are young, handsome and are all dressed in the height of fashion. They are a very gay set and but a small portion of them attend school in the Latin quarter.

After each dance the majority of the students would go to the adjoining beer and wine garden with their best girls. When twelve o'clock arrived the dance became real gay and frequently the girls would stop to kick a hat from the head of some student whom they would then give the merry laugh. Fully five hundred couple were on the floor at a time.

Incident Amused Americans

What amused our party of Americans as much as anything was to see a six foot negro from South Africa walk about the hall attired in white duck trousers, white vest, black frock coat and a high silk hat. On his right arm leaned a handsome French white girl of twenty-two summers. Just the minute they finished a dance, he seemed to think it his special duty to lean over and kiss his fair companion first on the right cheek and then on the left.

No one in the hall seemed to take any special notice of this little scene except the few Americans present, in spite of the fact that it was in plain view of all.

An English speaking Frenchman present informed me that such instances were common there and that the French girls who attend these student dances are in the height of their glory if they can dance with a colored student. Colored people, in most instances, are just as highly respected in Paris as are the whites.

At 1 o'clock the dance came to an end and if I was to guess, I would say that more than one-half of the girls present went home unescorted.

Paris publishes a new newspaper at every fresh sensation and according to a recent report the newspapers of Paris number today over 1,000. The price of French newspapers is high and the reading matter is small in amount. Now that the Dreyfus trial is in progress several of the papers issue "extras" many times during the day. W. W. W.

ARRANGE WRESTLING MATCH

William Allen of Duluth Would Like to Meet Reinhold Schott

William Allen, the well known wrestler of Duluth, Minn., has been in the city for the past two days for the purpose of arranging a match with Reinholdt Schott of Watertown. Schott is the man who wrestled Jack Carkeek at the Scottish games in this city and is the best in this vicinity.

The match if made will be for $250 a side, for the middle-weight championship of the north-west and will be held in this city. It would doubtless attract a large number of people from the surrounding towns and would be a contest worth seeing.

BURGLARS ENTERED I. J. FLETCHER HOME

SECURED ONLY THE GROCERYMAN'S POCKET CHANGE.

Had Been His Usual Custom to Carry Home Cash Receipts of the Day—Luckily He Did Not Do So Last Night—Prowler Was After Big Game.

Fletcher Bros., grocerymen, bought a safe yesterday, and for this reason the burglar who entered the home of I. J. Fletcher last night, secured only Mr. Fletcher's pocket change

But Mr. Fletcher says he doesn't love the house breaker any more for that part of it, because in taking this small change the robber carried the groceryman's trousers out into the yard and left them there over night, and when he put them on this morning they were exceedingly damp from the dew.

Mr. Fletcher lives at 260 Glen street, in what is known as the Clint Child's old home. He has been in the habit, ever since Fletcher Bros. started in their store on Milwaukee street, of each night carrying home the receipts of the day. These, Mr. Fletcher says, will vary from $75 to $175 dollars, and he has been accustomed to put this money in a small grip which he placed under his bed at night.

Last night was the first time since the beginning of June, that Mr. Fletcher has not slept over a satchel of cash.

The burglar, whoever he was, had probably solved the mystery of the grip and determined to secure its contents.

Mr. Fletcher was down town last night and returned to his home about 10 o'clock. The receipts for yesterday had been left in the new safe. Mr. Fletcher locked up the house and went to bed. When he awoke this morning his trousers were no where to be seen. Investigation showed that one of the windows of the dining room, which had been locked last night, had been forced open. Further search developed the fact that Mr. Fletcher's trousers were in the front yard. One dollar in change had been taken from the pockets.

Mr. Fletcher had placed the trousers on a chair at the head of his bed. The burglar, after effecting an entrance made his way through the dining room and the sitting room to the bed chamber, the door of which, Mr. Fletcher says, was open. The robber seeing the room occupied probably became intimidated and did not make a very extensive search for the grip. But he could, by putting his arm through the doorway, reach the chair at the head of the bed, and in this way the trousers were secured.

A watch left in the pocket of Mr. Fletcher's vest, which was also on the chair, showed that the night prowler was only after big game.

Mr. Fletcher's wife states that for several mornings, she has noticed that the slats in the blinds of the bedroom have been turned during the night. The robber has probably been investigating the scene for this action for some time.

Cannot See the Manuscript.

Some time ago it was announced that a manuscript of the "Agricola" of Tacitus had recently been found. The philologists rejoice at the new enrichment of the critical material at their command. The possessor of the treasure, however, the bishop of Toledo, in Spain, has given them pause, for he will not even allow them to see the manuscripts, on the ground that any publication of its contents would diminish its value.

JURY DISAGREES IN THE COHEN CASE

RETIRED FOR DELIBERATION THIS MORNING.

Hearing of Evidence Finished Late Yesterday Afternoon and Arguments Commenced at Once—Defendant is Charged With Defrauding an Insurance Company—Jury Out Yet.

The hearing of evidence in the case of the state against Isadore Cohen was finished late yesterday afternoon and the arguments were commenced at once. District Attorney Jackson made a portion of the opening argument yesterday and finished this morning. He was followed by Attorney George G. Sutherland on behalf of the defendant, after which Mr. Jackson closed the case for the state.

Judge Fifield then charged the jury at length and they retired to the southeast room of the chamber for deliberation at 11:40 a. m. At 2 o'clock p. m. no agreement had been reached and as it was evident that they would be obliged to be out for some time longer, dinner was demanded and brought to the men by Turnkey Sam Brown, after which deliberations were resumed. During this time, Cohen, anxious to know his fate, paced nervously up and down the hall way.

The history of the case is well known to Janesville people. Cohen was arrested after a mysterious fire which occurred in his picture establishment over the store now occupied by McDaniels & Achterberg. He was charged with defrauding the Hamburg Bremen Fire Insurance Company out of $200, the amount decided upon by H. B. Washington, the adjuster for the company. Cohen at the same time was insured in another company but denied the fact. He tried to get a settlement from the latter but failed. The case was adjourned several times but was re opened on Tuesday morning of this week and was just finished today.

At 3:50 o'clock the jury asked to come into the court room and after the roll was called, Judge Fifield asked Foreman Ezra Dillenbeck if they had agreed upon a verdict. Mr. Dillenbeck replied that they could not agree and asked that they be discharged.

Judge Fifield refused to do so and ordered them back for an agreement.

Sues to Collect $50 Rent

A civil action between two prominent citizens came up in the municipal court yesterday afternoon. The case was that of F. C. Cook against Wilson Lane, and diversity of opinion seems to exist in regard to the action.

Mr. Cook sues Mr. Lane to collect $50 for the rent of an office over the former's jewelry store on Milwaukee street which the latter occupied about three years ago. The complaint alleges that the attorney was to have paid two hundred dollars per year rental including heat and other privileges, and that although the plaintiff has a written agreement to that effect, the defendant refuses to settle a balance of $50. Mr. Cook has garnisheed Mr. Lane's bank account for that amount.

Mr. Lane on his part repudiates the debt and claims that Mr. Cook owes him $7.26 for several office fixtures which the latter agreed to purchase when he vacated the premises. He said if he owed the amount he would pay it, but that when he asked for a statement of the account he was refused the same.

When the case was called Mr. Lane demanded that a bill of particulars be filed and the case was held open until 5 o'clock to allow the plaintiff to do so. It was then adjourned until Sept. 20, at 9 o'clock a. m.

Charles Dunn appeared for the plaintiff, while the attorney defended himself.

FARMERS FORM A COMBINE.

Twenty-Million-Dollar Organization Said to Be Completed.

Topeka, Kas., Aug. 26.—Several prominent farmers and business men of this place have organized "The Farmers' Federation of the Mississippi Valley," with a capital stock of $20,000,000. The purpose is to control the price of farm products, and especially of the enormous corn crop of Kansas. The trust will establish warehouses and maintain agents at Cincinnati, St. Louis and Chicago, where the grain raised by the members will be marketed. The cities having the warehouses will become outlets for the grain and products of the middle and western states. It is believed here among conservative business men that the scheme will succeed.

Regiment of Negro Infantry.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Lieut.-Col. William P. Duvall of the Twenty-Sixth volunteer infantry, who is a captain of the First artillery of the regular service, has been tendered and has accepted the colonelcy of the regiment of negro infantry which the war department has decided to organize. The new command will be designated as the Forty-Eighth infantry regiment, United States volunteers. It will be recruited from the country at large. It is probable that all the officers will be white, and the field officers will be unquestionably selected from the regular service.

Annexation Desired.

Havana, Aug. 26.—The sentiment in favor of annexation to, or, at least, the establishment of a protectorate by, the United States, which has been growing slowly as the result of the work of the Americans here, is daily becoming more apparent. The possibility of the withdrawal of all the American troops, followed by the absolute independence of the island, has led those favoring annexation or a protectorate to appoint a committee to visit Washington to seek the desired end. The committee has started for Washington, with the intention of seeing President McKinley.

Says Bandits Were Slain.

Havana, Aug. 26.—There is no doubt of the truth of the assertions of former Judge Juan A. Calderon with regard to the killing of twelve suspected bandits by cavalrymen of the Twelfth regiment at Gibara. Col. Arongo, who was on Garcia's staff, corroborates the statement in every particular.

Otis Wants No More Cavalry.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Major-Gen. Otis has informed the war department that at a conference of general officers in the Philippines, called by him, it was decided that no more cavalry was necessary to the conduct of the campaign in Luzon. The country is not suitable for cavalry operations.

Each American soldier in the Philippines is provided with two full suits of khaki, two white duck suits, an unlined blouse, a pair of kersey trousers, a campaign hat, a cork helmet, a pair of leggings, one pair of barrack and one of russet shoes, and both wool and cotton underwear.

MES HER SOLDIERS.

Californians Crowd San Francisco to See Troops Land

San Francisco, Aug. 26.—The California regiment landed from the transport Sherman Friday and marched to the Presidio. As this was San Francisco's home regiment the demonstration exceeded in enthusiasm the reception accorded other regiments. People came from all parts of the state to see the show, and there were fully 100,000 strangers in town. The troops landed at 7 o'clock and were given a breakfast at the ferry building.

Then they marched to the Presidio, escorted by the Third artillery, the Colorado regiment and the National Guard. Immense crowds lined the streets for miles and gave the soldiers a rousing welcome home.

Our Clothing Department

FOR BOYS AND CHILDREN.

The Clothing we have purchased comes from the best makers in the country and is made up from the late cloth patterns in the best styles. Each will be warranted by us fully as is every article in our store. We can afford to let these goods out for less than the stores that depend on the line for profit, rent, etc., because it is merely one of a great number of departments in our store, and, like our Shoe stock is merely one of the whole stock to bring up our yearly margins.

A LONG-FELT WANT.

It Is Supplied At Last In Janesville

It is hard to always be pleasant
Good natured people are often irritable.
If you knew the reason you would not be surprised.
Ever have Itching Piles?
Not sick enough to go to bed or well enough to be content.
Nothing will annoy you so.
The constant itching sensation.
Hard to bear; harder to get relief.
Keeps you awake nights
Spoils your temper nearly drives you crazy?
Isn't relief and cure a long felt want?
It is to be had for everyone in Doan's Ointment.
Doan's Ointment never fails to cure itching piles
Eczema or any itching of the skin.
Here is proof in the testimony of a citizen:

Mr. L. Lawrence, of 408 S. Franklin St., engineer at the Janesville Electric Light Co., says; "I tried about everything recommended for itchiness of the skin, but found nothing to give me relief until I struck Doan's Ointment, which I obtained at the People's drug store. I had an affliction of the skin on my face caused from the burning oil about the engine and dynamos My face itched and annoyed me, and rubbing it only made it worse and made it sore. I could hardly stand shaving, for the skin broke and bled. A few applications of Doan's Ointment removed the itchiness and healed up my face in a few days. I would not be without this remedy in my house, and I certainly recommend it to others in in need of such a preparation."

Doan's Ointment is sold for 50 cents per box by all dealers. Mailed on receipt of price by Foster-Milburn Co, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U.S.
Remember the name, Doan's, and ake no other.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF TRADE.

Clearing House Payments Larger Than for Many Years.

FAILURES SHOW A DECREASE.

Bradstreet's Reports Strength in Prices and Steadiness in Demand—Causes for the Recent Rise in Beef Prices—Wheat and Corn Shipments.

New York, Aug. 26.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

"Actual payments through the principal clearing houses for the week were 23.1 per cent larger than last year and 56.2 per cent larger than in the same week in 1892. For the month thus far the daily average of payments has been 26.3 per cent larger than last year and 56 per cent larger than in 1892. Tonnage from Chicago in three weeks has been 80.7 per cent larger than last year and 74.6 per cent larger than in 1892. Failures for the week have been 163 in the United States, against 179 last year, and sixteen in Canada, against twenty-six last year."

Bradstreet's says:

"Strength in prices and steadiness of demand are still the salient features of the trade situation. Fall demand is expanding at most markets, particularly good reports being received from the northwest and that portion of the corn-growing country which this year seems likely to be notable for surplus production. Wheat has been quite firm all the week, partly owing to a whittling down of northwestern estimates, but also due to steady demand for the cash article alike on foreign and domestic account. The relative scarcity of cash corn is responsible for the advance shown this week in the face of a concededly large production.

"Conditions of supply and demand seem to be at the bottom of the recent rise in beef prices. This advance has attracted increased receipts of grass-fed cattle, and some shading of quotations is noted, but Chicago prices have only been equaled five times in twenty-two years. There are nearly 10,000,000 less beef cattle in the country than there were seven years ago, and, in fact, there are fewer cattle in the country now than in any year since 1882.

"Wheat, including flour, shipments for the week aggregate 3,343,825 bushels, against 4,040,009 bushels last week, 3,563,476 bushels in the corresponding week of 1898, 5,149,653 bushels in 1897, 3,281,854 bushels in 1896, and 1,871,928 bushels in 1895.

"Corn exports for the week aggregate 4,596,097 bushels, against 5,531,405 bushels last week, 2,648,933 bushels in this week a year ago, 2,682,452 bushels in 1897, 2,610,309 bushels in 1896, and 1,124,536 bushels in 1895."

250,000 PERSONS' DESTITUTE.

2,312 Burials of Hurricane Victims Have Been Made in Porto Rico.

San Juan, Porto Rico, Aug. 26.—An official report has been issued by the president of the superior board of health, showing that there have been 2,312 burials of victims of the recent hurricane. One thousand families are missing, together with their houses. The report states that the number of destitute persons is 250,000.

It is estimated that it will require 25,000,000 pounds of rice and beans and 4,250,000 pounds of codfish to allow of a ration of a pound a day being issued until the crops can be gathered, seventeen weeks hence. The cost of these supplies would be $125,000.

Testing Anti-Trust Law.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 26.—Six test cases were begun in the Circuit court of Sangamon county Friday against corporations which have failed to report to the secretary of state whether they are connected with a trust. The suits in all cases ask for $10,000 damages for failure to comply with the law requiring such reports. The result of the suits will be of national importance.

Will Raise Army to the Limit.

Washington, Aug. 26.—President McKinley has decided to enlist the entire force of 35,000 volunteers provided for by congress. Already 30,507 volunteers have been called for, and an order which will be issued probably to-day will provide for the organization of three more regiments.

Union Veterans' Union Adjourns.

Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 26.—The Union Veterans' union closed its annual convention here Friday. The final reports showed the order prosperous financially and increasing rapidly in membership. The next meeting will be held in Washington, October, 1900.

Samuel Merrill Is Stricken.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 26.—Former Gov. Samuel Merrill of Iowa, who has resided here for some time, suffered a stroke of paralysis and is thought to be dying. He was injured severely in an electric car accident several months ago and has never entirely recovered from that injury.

Great Loss by Storm.

Lima, Peru (via Galveston), Aug. 26.—According to reliable reports received here from Chile, property valued at more than £1,500,000 ($7,500,000) has been destroyed during the severe storms that have swept the country during the last fortnight.

Jealous Man Kills His Wife.

The merchant who is "good and ready" before the tide of demand sets in is the merchant who wins. What is true of the merchant is just as true of his customers. The woman who has her dresses a little ahead of the season is the woman who wins satisfaction, ease and comfort, and escapes "Dress-Maker-Nervous-Prostration."

During the past two weeks we have received over three hundred pieces of New Dress Goods, ranging in price from 25c to $3.50 a yard, including the very latest styles for customs, tailor-made suits, separate and walking skirts, in plain, mixed and fancy weaves, single and double faced plaids and checks.

If you have got to buy a Dress don't you think it will be to your advantage to see this first-class, high grade, low priced line of new Dress Goods?

The Cash Plan saves you money on every yard you buy.

Do You Want A Raise In Wages???

'Most anyone would welcome an advance in wages from $10 to $12, but $10 will buy as many goods at our store as $12 would buy at a credit store, and the saving thus effected for you is equal to a proportionate increase in salary.

On account of the many other matters demanding our attention, as the result of an inventory, we were unable to change prices of our whole stock this week, but will do so Monday.

We wish to thank the people of Janesville for their cordial reception and especially those credit customers of Mr. Sanborn, who have become cash customers of the new firm. We pledge them that they will have no occasion to regret it.
